

Majority phones sold in Kenya are smartphones

IT News Africa reports that, according to mobile operator Safaricom, 67% of mobile phones sold in Kenya are smartphones.

© Andrew Barker - Fotolia.com

For more:

- IT News Africa: 67% of mobile phones sold in Kenya are smartphones... According to Kenya's Capital FM, "Samsung eats a huge chunk currently with over 400,000 high end devices sold in Kenya last year. Samsung also has a grasp of the market across the devices range from entry level all through to high end with a smartphone adoption rate that can only be rivalled by Nokia..."

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>