Who are you and what business are you going to be in 2020? Is next year your time to be a challenger?

In these tough times you have to think and play differently. Are you and your business clear about how you're going to take on 2020? Do you have a clear intent and an actionable plan? Who do you stand with when it comes to resetting the agenda?

Overthrow II, a new book by eatbigfish and PHD Worldwide, will help you define your intent precisely.

Take the Overthrow II quiz to find out your personal or business challenger type. It can help you identify what's important to you in the way you work, the kind of organisation that would value your skills, and the strategies and media behaviours your challenger tribe rallies behind.

Are you ready? Find out what challenger type you or your business is. Take the quiz.
