8 Jul 2009

Last week judges of the HOMEMAKERS Green School competition had no easy task when learners from various schools in the greater Tshwane area entered well over 60 projects for this eco-friendly competition.

The competition, presented by HOMEMAKERS and Indalo Yethu, offered five different categories for various age groups and aimed to encourage youth to put on their green thinking caps. After judging all projects were displayed for the duration of the week at the Menlyn Park shopping centre.

Apart from winning their share of the R40 000 prize money the winners' projects will also be displayed at the 2010 Gauteng HOMEMAKERS Expo 18 to 21 February.
