

Evonik Acrylics Africa

The renowned German-based company Evonik Industries has teamed up with a large Southern African producer of extruded plastics, Ampaglas Plastics Group, to create a new company called Evonik Acrylics Africa (EAA).

This joint venture will make high-end Plexiglas sheeting and sheet products more readily available for the South African market. Evonik Acrylics Africa is expected to primarily dominate the building and architecture market segments. And then also the furniture, shop-fitting and exhibition booth construction segments.
