

Turkish Airlines creates its 52nd African destination

Turkish Airlines is establishing a new flight to Freetown, Sierra Leone, on 24 February 2018. The new flight makes it the airline's 52nd African destination.

The trip between Freetown's Lungi International Airport and Istanbul Atatürk International Airport operates on Tuesdays and Saturdays via Ouagadougou, Burkina Faso.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>