

AccuraCast plans international expansion

AccuraCast, a London-based digital marketing agency, is planning its international expansion after achieving 48% annual growth over the past five years.

Founded in 2004, AccuraCast focuses on helping businesses grow their online presence internationally. AccuraCast itself is preparing for overseas growth and plans to open French, German and American offices either directly or through acquisition.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>