

Woolley named Dell EMC SA general manager

Doug Woolley is to take up the role of Dell EMC South Africa general manager in February of 2017. With 20 years of experience in the IT sector, the company has selected Woolley to continue Dell EMC's momentum in the country and he has been tasked with expanding its existing customer and partner base.

Following four years as Business Connexion's group executive, Woolley joined Dell as general manager in 2015. Woolley is notable for his impressive business growth track record and strong leadership.
