

First women president for shopping centre council

Julie Hillary, MD of small specialist commercial property management company NAI Finlay, was recently appointed the first women president of the South African Council of Shopping Centres. “The foundations for many projects by the SACSC have been laid in the past year, and the realisation of these over the coming months, as well as the international exposure with the ICSC conference, should prove to bring benefit to all of us in the industry,” comments Hillary.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>