

Media24 launches King William's Town Express

Media24 recently launched the King William's Town Express, a community-based tabloid newspaper which is distributed to 20, 000 homes in King William's Town and Bhiso free of charge, every week. The tabloid's content is community focused and looks at news of interest to the local community.

Send an email to express@media24.com and include your information and photos to publicise your local news contribution. Alternatively, you can liaise directly with the King William's Town reporter, Sanele James by calling 082 667 9883.
