

Nairobi gets ready for Digital Fair

From 7-9 March the Digital Fair will be hosted at the Sarit Centre in Nairobi, Kenya. It will be an opportunity for attendees to meet, exchange experiences, debate ideas and reflect on essential challenges and the expected impact of digital network technologies.

The Fair, themed Powering the Digital Future, is a three-day event for researchers, critics, the business network and the public in general and which, according to the organisers, will provide a platform to different organisations to illustrate their technological capabilities and showcase the latest digital trends.

For more, go to www.digital-fair.com

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>