

Capitec adds value to mobile banking app

	"Ads annoying, right?"
Instead of having to endure long queues at banks and stores, now you can 'skip' and use their mobile banking app instead.	Capitec has created three ads, each with different personalities, to add value to their mobile banking app.
Instead of having to endure long queues at banks and stores, now you can 'skip' and use their mobile banking app instead.
Instead of having to endure long queues at banks and stores, now you can 'skip' and use their mobile banking app instead.
Instead of having to endure long queues at banks and stores, now you can 'skip' and use their mobile banking app instead.
Instead of having to endure long queues at banks and stores, now you can 'skip' and use their mobile banking app instead.
Instead of having to endure long queues at banks and stores, now you can 'skip' and use their mobile banking app instead.
Instead of having to endure long queues at banks and stores, now you can 'skip' and use their mobile banking app instead.
Instead of having to endure long queues at banks and stores, now you can 'skip' and use their mobile banking app instead.
Instead of having to endure long queues at banks and stores, now you can 'skip' and use their mobile banking app instead.
Instead of having to endure long queues at banks and stores, now you can 'skip' and use their mobile banking app instead.
Instead of having to endure long queues at banks and stores, now you can 'skip' and use their mobile banking app instead.
Instead of having to endure long queues at banks and stores, now you can 'skip' and use their mobile banking app instead.
	Instead of having to endure long queues at banks and stores, now you can 'skip' and use their mobile banking app instead.

Hilarity comes in the form of viewers actu	ually not skipping and leaving the actors at a loss for words
	For more, visit: https://www.bizcommunity.com	