This year's awards will be televised for the first time, on DSTv's People's Weather Channel 180 and Openview HD Channel 115 on 10 July, and broadcast to over 11 million households.

Awards categories

There are 12 categories covering various sectors to ensure that individuals, small businesses, corporates, organisations and communities that make a positive difference through environmentally sustainable initiatives and projects can be recognised, rewarded and empowered.

The awards categories are Nature Conservation Award, Climate Change Award, Eco-Innovation Award, Circular Economy and Waste Innovation Award, Water Conservation Award, Eco-Fashion and Lifestyle Award, Eco-Health and Wellness Award, Eco-Friendly Home Products Award, Eco-Community Award, Eco-Hospitality and Tourism Award, Eco-Angel Award and the Eco-Warrior Award.

All entries will be judged by a panel of 12 independent, highly-respected, environmentally-conscious executives from a diverse range of occupations and professions using the seven criteria that are the 'V.I.R.T.U.E.S' of Eco-Logic.

Green Corridors honoured for its environmental conservation efforts

Gold, Silver and Bronze winners are recognised, commended and presented with the treasured symbol of 'Eco-Logical intelligence and achievement'. This generates vast media exposure and increases support from consumers purchasing their products and services, while also enhancing credibility and stakeholder buy-in, and opening greater possibilities for private, public and government sponsorship and support.

"It's time again to shine the spotlight on those building a safer, happier and more sustainable society and environment for us all to live in. There is plenty of doom and gloom in the world today, but - without ignoring the reality - it is important that we retain a vision of the beautiful world we want to and can create for the future," says David Parry-Davies, editor of The Enviropaedia and founder of the Eco-Logic Awards.

The closing date for entry submission is 30 April 2022.
